I. INTRODUCTION

In today's world financial well-being is the dream of every person and managing and keeping track of their expenses play a crucial role in this goal. If a person is not able to manage his expenses, he/she is likely to end up in a crisis. Money management is a necessary part of life. A proper balance between income and expense is a must for a comfortable livelihood. There must be some savings that can be used at a later point of life when needed. But in the absence of proper management of money, we left with no savings at all. Some people note down every single expense which is a good practice. Expense Management and Tracking is performed by noting down and analyzing the transactions of an individual or an organization over a particular period. Nowadays, everyone in the world is in some kind of hurry, so countless people are searching for competent ways of tracking and managing their expenses. In some recent years, research has been administered on household budgets (Access Consultants, 1998; Central Statistics Office, 2001; European Countries, 2004; Muellbauer, 2006; Redpath, 1986; Yemtsov, 2007). It was found that in most cases, people were performing expense management and tacking mentally and not writing any of it down on paper making the process more problematic. Perhaps this is because of the verity that most of the people do not know how to manage and keep track of their expenses. For budgeting, we have to foresee and establish some future goals. By determining a budget, an individual can set goals for attaining a certain level of income and check his/her expenses. Numerous proprietors of home-based and small-scale industries have observed that their profit margins did not increase until they had a written income goal and a process with which to oversee expenses (Central Statistics Office, 2001; Redpath, 1986). Similarly, personal finance management is an important aspect of people's lives. Then again, not everyone has the knowledge or time to track their expenses properly. Moreover, even if they have the time and familiarity with the process, they don't concern themselves with expense tracking and management as they find it tiresome. Today, people don't have to worry as there are numerous applications and techniques using which they can manage their expenses. Also called expense manager, an expense tracker is software that facilitates keeping a record of an individual's money inflow and outflow. Most of the people in the world live on a static revenue, and they discover that towards the end of the month they don't even have enough money to meet their essentials. Though this problem can be due to low salary, most of the time it is because of improper money management skills. This is one among the simplest ways to urge your expenses in check.

III. RESEARCH

As stated in the previous section, for most of the people expense tracking is still a manual process being conducted on pieces of paper. Copybooks and notebooks are used for this purpose where the daily expenses are written as per the willingness of the person. At the end of the month, the total for the income/expenses made is then calculated so that a comparison can be made against previous months. A sample page from these copybooks is shown below:

My Expenses Period: January 2020

Expenses	Total Cost (Rs.)
Kelvinator Fridge 100 L Total Cost: Rs. 69, 200	28, 000
Wooden Furniture (5 pieces)	32, 000
Groceries	8, 000
Cinema (3 times * 4 persons)	1, 200

Total Cost: Rs. 69, 200

In addition to expenses management shown, income management is also done which consumes more pages of the notebook. The problems identified with the actual system being used by most of the people are as follows:

- 1) Much detail cannot be kept as there is much rewrite to be done which makes the task tedious.
- 2) Involves much paperwork which:

- a) Occupy lots of space
 - b) can be easily lost or stolen,
 - c) May become dirty or get damaged thus causing loss of information.
- 3) Searching and referencing is difficult and time-consuming.
 - 4) Analysis and comparison of data become difficult.
 - 5) Reports generation is a tedious process.
 - 6) The work being done is not accurate.
